2. As you are probably aware, a general agreement on the subject of release of intelligence to contractors is presently under consideration by the USIB Committee on Documentation. In the meantime, it is suggested that your office, in releasing intelligence material to [redacted] be guided by the terms of the agreement dated 7 November 1958, covering release of CIA-produced intelligence and intelligence information to Project [redacted]. Under this arrangement, OCR will have the authority to release pertinent Clandestine Services reports in their original form to [redacted] except for those which bear the LIMITED control [redacted] and [redacted] which must be referred to this office for clearance.
